DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

150. Trend Micro Japan acknowledges Taasera's demand for a jury trial and demands the same on all issues so triable.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

Trend Micro Japan denies that Plaintiff is entitled to any relief whatsoever from Trend Micro Japan, whether sought in the Prayer for Relief or otherwise. Trend Micro Japan further denies that Plaintiff has any valid claim pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, et seq., and denies that it has violated any of the patent laws of the United States with respect to the patents-in-suit. Plaintiff's Prayer for Relief should therefore be denied in its entirety and with prejudice, and Plaintiff should take nothing from Trend Micro Japan.

DEFENSES AND AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

Trend Micro Japan alleges and asserts the following defenses and affirmative defenses in response to the allegations in the Amended Complaint. Trend Micro Japan undertakes the burden of proof only as to those defenses that are deemed affirmative defenses as a matter of law. In addition to the defenses described below, Trend Micro Japan reserves all rights to amend or supplement these defenses as additional facts become known.

First Defense – Non-Infringement

1. Trend Micro Japan has not infringed, directly, jointly, contributorily, or by inducement, any valid or enforceable claim of the patents-in-suit, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents, and has not otherwise committed any acts in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271, et seq.

Second Defense – Invalidity/Ineligibility

2. At least the asserted claims of the patents-in-suit are invalid, unenforceable, or ineligible for patenting under one or more of the provisions of Title 35 of the United States Code, including but not limited to 35 U.S.C. §§ 101 (subject matter), 102 (anticipation), 103 (obviousness), and/or 112 (indefiniteness, failure to claim the subject matter regarded as the invention, and failure to satisfy the written description and/or enablement requirements), the rules, regulations, and laws pertaining thereto, and/or under other judicially-created bases for invalidity and ineligibility.

Third Defense – Failure to State a Claim

3. Plaintiff has failed to plead its claims with specificity or factual support to place Trend Micro Japan on notice of the claims Plaintiff is asserting against it, such that Plaintiff has failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted.

4. Plaintiff has failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted for infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b) for failing to plausibly allege facts sufficient to identify or show: (a) a direct infringer for any claim of alleged indirect infringement of the patents-in-suit by Trend Micro Japan, (b) any pre-suit factual basis that Trend Micro Japan had actual knowledge or was willfully blind to the Patents-in-Suit or Trend Micro Japan's alleged infringement, and (c) that Trend Micro Japan had specific intent to induce infringement of the Patents-in-Suit.

5. Plaintiff has failed to state a claim upon which relief can be granted for infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(c) for failing to plausibly allege facts sufficient to identify or show: (a) a direct infringer for any claim of alleged indirect infringement of the Patents-in-Suit by Trend Micro Japan; (b) any pre-suit factual basis that Trend Micro Japan had actual knowledge of or was willfully blind to the Patents-in-Suit or Trend Micro Japan's alleged infringement; and (c) that any component(s) allegedly supplied by Trend Micro Japan are especially made or especially adapted for use in the Patents-in-Suit and are not staple articles of commerce suitable for substantial non-infringing use.

Fourth Defense – Limitations on Damages and Costs

6. Plaintiff's claims for damages and/or costs are limited under the statutory limitations on damages and/or costs set forth in 35 U.S.C. §§ 286, 287 and/or 288.

Fifth Defense – Prosecution History Estoppel and Disclaimer

7. Plaintiff's claims are barred by the doctrine of prosecution history estoppel and prosecution disclaimer based on amendments, statements, admissions, omissions, representations, disclaimers, and/or disavowals made during the prosecution of the patents-in-suit and other patents that also claim priority to the same parent applications.

Sixth Defense – 28 U.S.C. § 1498

8. To the extent that any accused products have been used or manufactured by or for the United States Government, Plaintiff's claims and requests for relief are barred by or subject to limitations pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1498.

Seventh Defense – Standing

9. To the extent Plaintiff and/or its predecessors-in-interest lacked ownership of any of the asserted patents and/or all substantial rights to any asserted patent at any relevant time during this lawsuit and/or at the time the patent(s) was/were assigned, Plaintiff lacks standing to bring this action. Plaintiff also lacks standing based on injury in fact because it has not alleged nor supported its allegations in a manner mandated by constitutional requirements.

Eighth Defense – Failure to Mark or Provide Notice

10. Plaintiff's claims for damages are barred and/or limited, in whole or in part, because Plaintiff, its predecessors-in-interest, and/or its licensees failed to give notice of any products that purport to practice the patents-in-suit by marking such products or otherwise notifying Trend Micro Japan of the alleged infringement as required by 35 U.S.C. § 287.

Ninth Defense - License

11. Plaintiff's claims are limited to the extent any of the claims are subject to a license and covenant not to sue, express and/or implied. For example, Trend Micro Japan relies on numerous component part suppliers and could be licensed to the extent any of those suppliers are themselves licensed.

Reservation of Additional Defenses

12. Trend Micro Japan's investigation of the matter is ongoing. It reserves all defenses under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the patent laws of the United States, other applicable state and federal laws, and any other defenses, at law or in equity, that may now exist or in the future be available based on discovery and further factual investigation in this case.
